Have your say - the process so far

Berkeley and Lambeth Council are delighted that so many local people got in touch and took part in the initial masterplan workshops. Over 150 local people have signed-up for updates and over 80 attended the workshops in January. This local input is essential to the masterplan process.

The Public Feedback Exhibition will:

- Provide an overview of all the key issues, opportunities or ideas local people shared with us.
- Outline some of the headline findings from a range of studies and site investigations.

If you are unable to attend the exhibition and meet the team, all exhibition material will be online from Wednesday 25 February.

The project team, including representatives from Lambeth and Berkeley, will be on hand to answer any questions you may have.

If you have not had a chance to pass on your thoughts, please visit our website www.oakda.co.uk where you can complete an online feedback form and register for updates.

We hope you can drop in, take a look at what local people have told us so far, have your say and ensure we are on the right track.

Next steps

- March/April - Drafting of the masterplan begins
- May/June - Six week public consultation
- July - Refine the masterplan
- August - Submit to Lambeth Council for review
